

SenSys 2011 Student Travel Grants

Sponsored by National Science Foundation

With the support from the U.S. National Science Foundation (NSF), a limited number of Student Travel Grants is available. An important goal for these grants is to broaden participation in the ACM Conference on Embedded Networked Sensor Systems (SenSys 2011) by supporting students with interests in sensor network research who would otherwise be unable to attend.

IMPORTANT DATES

Application Deadline: September 23, 2011
Notification of Acceptance: September 27, 2011

ELIGIBILITY

The support is intended to partially cover the costs of attending the conference. The costs include conference registration, transportation, lodging, and meals. Students receiving travel awards may be expected to volunteer at SenSys'11. Such volunteer tasks will not interfere with attendance at conference sessions.

Selection for the Student Travel Grants will be in accordance with the following guidelines:

- The applicant must be a current student at a recognized US institution of higher education.
- The applicant's field of study must be related to SenSys topics.
- Students who are well-funded and have ample means of covering their travel should not apply for support.
- Priority will be given to female and under-represented minority students, as well as students pursuing their graduate studies in Minority Serving Institutions, such as, Historically Black Universities, Hispanic Serving Institutions, Tribal Colleges and Universities, and institutions that serve Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders and persons with disabilities.
- Students from under-represented states and institutions are specifically encouraged to apply.
- Consideration will be given to other applicants falling outside above categories, but demonstrate a well-justified financial need.

HOW TO APPLY

- 1) The student applicant must send an email to sensys2011@cse.tamu.edu with subject line "SenSys Student Travel Grant Application".
